[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

DATES TO JULY 1.

We are able to give this morning the following [illegible] eastern and foreign news

Army Reduced—Commanders Appointed

NEW YORK, June 30. A Washington special [illegible] the [illegible] comprehensive order relating to the consolidation of the different departments of the new military divisions will be issued as soon as the present mustering out of troops is completed. The several corps of the Army of the Potomac will each be reduced to divisions, the whole to constitute a provisional army corps to be commanded by Major General Wright, headquarters to be at [illegible] corps to be commanded by Brevet Major General [illegible]. The fifth corps [illegible] by Brevet Major General [illegible]. The Middle Military Division is also retired, and a new department formed, consisting of Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland and West Virginia, Major General Hancock commanding, headquarters to be at Baltimore. The Department of the East to remain as it is, but Gen. Hooker will succeed Gen. Dix in command, headquarters at New York.

CINCINNATI, June 30. Gen. Logan has given orders mustering out [illegible] 000 men belonging to the Army of Tennessee.

From Richmond.

WASHINGTON, June 30. An adjourned meeting of the citizens of Richmond was held yesterday. A memorial to the President was read, representing that the $20,000 clause in his proclamation of amnesty is daily causing great embarrassment in the transaction of all kinds of business, and praying that it be withdrawn. There is a letter from [illegible] Tate of the First National Bank of Richmond to the commissioners [illegible] favoring the repeal of the clause referred to. The petitioners state that they took the oath prescribed by President Lincoln of March 26th and December 8th 1863 in the full belief that by so doing they secured the pardon extended, and that business had been seriously paralyzed by the decision of the Attorney-General. The memorial will probably be signed unanimously and forwarded to the President in a few days.

Number of Rebels Surrendered in Texas—Scare in Mexico.

NEW YORK, July 1.—The Herald's correspondent from the Department of Sheridan and Canby says: Up to the 21st of June ten thousand men of Kirby Smith's rebel army had been paroled. Ninety pieces of artillery and twenty thousand stand of arms have been surrendered. Of the General officers of Smith's army, sixteen or eighteen have been paroled, including Buckner and old Sterling Price. Gens. Shelby and Magruder have taken to Mexico. The Imperialists of Matamoras have recently been very much excited by a report that there will shortly be seventy thousand United States troops along the Rio Grande in Texas. Fleets of transports carrying the Fourth Army Corps, destined for the Rio Grande, passed New Orleans on the 22d. Captured correspondence between the rebel General Slaughter and the Imperialist General Mejia shows clearly that the trade in cotton by the rebel Government was recognized by Maximilian and his authorities, and that about two million dollars' worth of cotton was carried across the Rio Grande to Mexico through the connivance of the Mexican authorities, subsequent to the surrender of Kirby Smith. If the official inquiry proves the correctness of this report our Government will no doubt demand its restoration.

The Organization of the Rebel Government at Montgomery in 1861.

NEW YORK, July 1.—The Herald's Athens (Georgia) [illegible] thrown upon the hitherto secret history of the proceedings of Jeff Davis's Southern Confederacy by documents captured, containing the proceedings of the rebel Provisional Government at Montgomery, Alabama. They also show that the rebels lost no time when once they got fairly at work in organizing the Government, which they had in full operation in less than five weeks from the assembling of their National Congress. There was a feeling in favor of naming the Southern establishment "The Republic of Washington," which was defeated by a majority of one vote. Propositions were made to insert in the preamble of the constitution a recognition of the divinity of both the Old and New Testaments of the Bible, and in the body a provision enforcing the observance of the Christian Sabbath. The former is understood to have been voted down out of respect to Judah P. Benjamin, the latter in deference to the people of Louisiana and Texas. Many other curious disclosures besides these noted are made by the documents.

A special to the Times from Washington the 2d says: Gen. Pope has arrived on the order of the President and Gen. Grant to consult concerning the treatment of the Indians in his Department. It is believed the Government will prohibit traders from coming in contact with them, and that the whole [illegible] of trading will be taken in the hands of the Government, as probably the only means of preventing collisions [illegible] with the various tribes of the Northwest.

Ill-health of the President.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Inquiries at the White House this evening elicited the fact that the health of the President is now worse than at any former period of his present illness, though he is not in immediate danger. Surgeon General Barnes has been called in to consult with Dr. Burroughs, who has thus far been his medical attendant.

Whereabouts of Leading Rebels.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Rebel Mosby, the guerrilla, having been pardoned, has opened a law office and settled in Culpepper, Va.

The Herald's South Carolina dispatch of the 26th says that the rebel Governor Clark of Mississippi has been committed to Fort Pulaski, Savannah river.

The rebel ex Secretary of the Treasury, Trenholm, recently sent to that stronghold, has been released by an order from Washington, and was in Charleston.

R. [illegible] Caruthers, at one time Judge of the Supreme Court of Tennessee, who in 1863 had himself elected rebel Governor of that State by a few hundred followers, was arrested at his home in [illegible] Tennessee, on the 24th, and committed to await trial for treason.

Release of Ould.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Robert Ould has been [illegible] released. He is expected here soon from Richmond.

Items

NEW YORK, June 30.—The [illegible] today publishes an important exposé [illegible] the United States Telegraph Company concerning the progress [illegible] extension of the line to the Pacific, which is deeply interesting to capitalists and the public generally.

The friends of [illegible] present Third Auditor of the Treasury are presenting his name for Assistant Secretary.

The [illegible] special says the expenditures of the government during the past year amount to $1 [illegible] 000 000.

A Washington special says Major [illegible] Eckert, Superintendent of the Military Telegraph, will [illegible] his duty as Assistant Secretary [illegible]

The Money Order System.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The money order office system [illegible] four hundred and twenty offices [illegible] principally in the Western States. Measures have been taken to extend the system to the Pacific Coast. The result of the experiment so far [illegible] the Department [illegible]

Foreign News—The Atlantic Telegraph

CAPE RACE, July 2.—The China from Liverpool June 24th and Queenstown 25th has arrived.

The general and political news is unimportant.

Advices from America by the Persia caused a decline in American securities. English papers are unusually silent on American affairs.

Prince Napoleon was about to proceed to Switzerland. His interview with the Emperor is said to have widened the breach between them.

Parliamentary proceedings are unimportant. The business of the session is closing up. It will end in about a fortnight.

The Opinione Nationale had received warning for an attack on the Government speeches in the Chambers.

In Spain, a naval amnesty had been declared [illegible] offences against the press law. Marshal O'Donnell had made a speech in the Cortes setting forth the Government policy, which included the recognition of the Kingdom of Italy and maintenance of amicable relations with foreign powers.

In Italy it is reported that the negotiations between the Mexican Embassy and the Papal Court had been interrupted, and the Embassy will leave Rome and England on its return from Mexico. The Florence papers confirm this rupture.

The report of the Hudson Bay Company is ready. In regard to the claim of the Company against the United States, hope is expressed that the question may be concluded before the end of the year.

The Atlantic Telegraph Cable was on board the Great Eastern. As soon as the balance of the paying-out machinery was put up the telegraph fleet would sail for Valentia. Before their departure from Valentia the U. S. Government steamer would join them. The vessels will probably leave Valentia on the 10th July and arrive at Heart's Content, Trinity Bay about the 24th. The Directors of the Company have decided on the following uniform tariff between all points of the United States and British North America to Great Britain: twenty pounds sterling for twenty words or less and one pound for each additional word. To the Continent of Europe, twenty one pounds for twenty words and one pound one shilling for each additional word. To Asia and Africa, twenty five pounds for twenty words, and one pound five shillings for each additional word. Address, date and signature all to be counted and charged in the message. Messages for places in Asia and Africa to which the telegraph does not extend will be forwarded by first mail postage paid. Messages in cipher will be charged double these rates. The Directors are convinced that unless they charge high prices at first there will be such an accumulation of business that great delay will arise in the transmission of messages, but they intend to put down a new cable as fast as possible, and then reduce prices. The cable will be opened for business as soon after it is laid as possible. All messages will be forwarded in the order in which they are received at Heart's Content and Trinity Bay. The new stock of the Atlantic Telegraph Company sells in [illegible] at a premium and the old of 1,000 pound shares at [illegible] sterling.

On the 21st June the shareholders in the Telegraph Construction Company visited the Great Eastern by invitation from the [illegible] of the Atlantic Company. On the following day Mr. Adams, the American Minister, the Duke and Duchess of Somerset, and a large number of other distinguished people, visited the ship. The health of Mr. Adams was drunk at dinner on board. Mr. Adams, in returning thanks, said that during the recent troubles he was selfish enough to wish the cable might not be laid, as he would have been overwhelmed with telegrams. Now he wished it every success, as he believed it would do more than any other agency to [illegible] the [illegible] of [illegible] between the two countries. The interests and object of Great Britain had all along been to maintain peace. Now that the contest which had distracted us had been put an end to, the sole object they had in view was peace also. [illegible] cable is all that could be desired, and those interested in it seemed perfectly confident of its complete success.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 20, 1865

To be Remembered

Were that class of politicians, who so infamously [illegible] and turned against it [illegible] we should silently remember their [illegible] and never publicly advert to their shameful record. Were they now capable of feeling the deep disgrace that is upon them in consequence of their past actions, and did their present conduct indicate repentance, we should think it right not only to trust them again but to look with some charity upon what they have done. But when we see them still adhering to the ruinous doctrines which they held all through the struggle and find them still insisting that our Government was wrong in endeavoring to defend its life against traitors, we conceive it a duty to urge the friends of the country not to forget what they have been, and what they claim to be now. So far, the country has survived in spite of the dangerous counsels of these worse than open enemies, and henceforward [illegible] there be the same vigilant watching against their present and future purposes, which has served well against them in the past.

Supposing that they now are an opportunity to regain a political supremacy which they lost only just in time to enable others to rescue the Government from the perils into which it was plunged, they are now concentrating all their efforts to bring about a reorganization of political parties [illegible] to procure their own elevation to power to the exclusion of the tried friends of the country. They know that if they can succeed in dispossessing their opponents of the management of the Government, there will be no obstacle in the way of the accomplishment of their long cherished but often foiled designs. Lifelong defenders of the aim of slavery, their restoration to power would insure practical rehabilitation of the [illegible] which has been so hardly destroyed. This purpose is avowed. Their plan comprehends nothing less than an alliance with the recent rebels who are smarting under defeat, to the end that they may work conjointly for the object which armed traitors failed to secure. If as they all assert, war for the preservation of the Government is never allowable, there will be no opposition to the designs of disaffected and seditious men in their future efforts to destroy the Union should their political allies be again placed in power.

The war is over, actual hostilities are at an end and the country has no armed forces arrayed against it. But they who have been so terribly defeated in the arbitrament of war, will be glad to join hands with those factionists of the North whom they instinctively feel to be the enemies of the Republic, hoping still for a realization of their purpose to destroy the Government or to pervert it to their own base use. Vigilance is required to guard the country against the insidious attacks of covert foes. A daring, defiant enemy is often less dangerous than a guileful leader of a turbulent multitude. Factious partisans of the North do not hesitate to proclaim as the gospel of political truth, the very same doctrines which the rebels professed when they threw the country into civil war. Their past history must not be forgotten, nor must opposition to their political heresies cease so long as they clamorously contend against the [illegible] our Government made.

SHERMAN AND STANTON.—Now that the true state of affairs in the Carolinas at the time of Sherman's truce with Johnston is becoming more clearly known, the hostility of General Sherman toward the Secretary of War appear to do him still less credit than before. One of the General's charges against the Secretary was that the latter had insinuated that the arrangement with Johnston [illegible] a door of escape for Jeff Davis. Sherman complained also that that the war office had interfered with his orders to his subordinates and that there was no occasion for this breach of courtesy. The following letter from Gen. Stoneman shows that the Secretary of War and Gen Halleck [illegible] both acting under the orders of the President and Gen. Grant, were right in countermanding Sherman's instructions to his subordinates. It now appears that this prompt action of Mr Stanton alone prevented the escape of Jefferson Davis.

KNOXVILLE (Tenn), June 4, 1865

E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War—Sir: I have just seen in print the letter of General Sherman to Lieutenant General Grant of April 28th, and in which appears the following words: "Stanton in stating that my orders to General Stoneman were the result in the escape of Jeff Davis to Mexico or Europe, is in deep error. Stoneman was not at Salisbury, but had gone back to Statesville. Davis was beyond him; by turning toward me he was approaching Davis, and had he joined me as ordered, I would have had a mounted force, greatly needed for that and other purposes," etc. Gen Sherman, directly and by implication, in these remarks and assertions, does me great injustice and makes [illegible] without a knowledge of circumstances and which are not born out by facts. General Thomas has assured you that I obeyed orders strictly, and I consider it a duty I owe myself to state that I am ready to prove and show, I think, to your satisfaction, first, that had I obeyed General Sherman's orders, Davis would in all probability have escaped.

2. That had not Sherman's orders proclaiming that peace had been restored from the Potomac to the Rio Grande been received when they were, Davis would most likely have been captured by my cavalry in April, such was the disposition I had made of the command for that and other purposes.

3. That had I not afterward, by direction, paid no attention to Gen Sherman's orders Davis in all human probability, would have escaped to the Mississippi river unmolested. The object of Gen Sherman when he wrote the letter was evidently to throw the responsibility of the escape of Davis upon myself, and inasmuch as his letter has been published to the world and its poisons been imbibed by the public minds, I have to ask that this statement may be given to the public as its antidote.

GEO. STONEMAN, Major General

EXECUTION OF THE MURDERERS OF MR LINCOLN.—The most important feature of the news we give this morning is the announcement of the execution of a portion of the murderous conspirators who were concerned in the taking of Mr Lincoln's life and in the assault on Secretary Seward, and the sentence of the remainder of those darkest of all villains to perpetual imprisonment. The base hate actors in this horrid crime no longer pollute the earth with their presence. As they were more guilty than common criminals so a swifter vengeance has overtaken them than falls on those who commit less heinous crimes. The righteousness of the speedy punishment they received, none can question. All must feel a satisfaction—though the memory of the illustrious and lamented victim of the conspiracy makes this satisfaction a mournful one—that the world is rid of those who [illegible] for so sudden a death [illegible] equally unfit to live.

The instruments which [illegible] more sagacious and therefore more guilty murderers, used to carry out their dark designs are now buried from the sight of men. Their principals still live, some of them are in the hands of Justice, others still at large. Proof which has been published establishes the complicity in the crime of those for whom rewards were offered shortly after the murder was done. Justice will never be satisfied until they who procured the perpetration of this most atrocious deed, shall be sunk in felons' graves along with the instruments they used to carry into execution that plot whose explosion threw a nation in mourning and sent a thrill of horror throughout the entire world.

A delegation of seventy from fourteen Indian tribes who have been hostile to the United States during the rebellion are on the way to Washington, with the object of making a treaty to perpetuate peace, and of being reinstated in the rights and benefits which they forfeited by taking up arms in behalf of the insurgents.

The official paper of the Columbian Government [illegible] published a decree issued by the Columbian Congress, declaring that President Juarez of Mexico has deserved well of America in view of the indomitable perseverance he has evinced in defence of the independence and freedom of his country. They regarded his virtue and patriotism as affording an example to the Columbian youth. The decree also provides that a portrait of Juarez be placed in the National Library, at Bogota, with a suitable inscription.

The Freedmen of Richmond.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The Herald's Richmond correspondent says that in consequence of a rumor in that city on Monday last, that the negroes contemplated an insurrection, the guards were doubled and other precautionary measures taken by the military. Col. Brown, Assistant Commissioner of the Freedmen in Virginia, issued an address to the colored people of that State on the 4th of July, instructing them with regard to their duties. [illegible] free and being placed [illegible] the proceeds of their labor. It remains for them to answer to the world whether they will be industrious and [illegible] able to take care of themselves. He promises them the protection and assistance of the Government, and [illegible] and warns them against [illegible]. They are reminded of the great responsibilities resting upon them [illegible].

[illegible] the right justice and [illegible] the elective franchise [illegible]. The celebration winds up to-night with a magnificent torch light procession.

The Assassins of Mr Lincoln Executed.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—[illegible] of counsel, Mr [illegible] Judge Wylie of the Supreme Court [illegible] a new writ. [illegible] Hancock, commanding [illegible] this morning, at 10 [illegible] body of Mary E. Surratt [illegible] Marshal reading [illegible] execution, none being admitted excepting those previously supplied with tickets by [illegible].

The relations of Mrs Surratt and Harrold spent several hours with them during the [illegible]. They were also attended by their spiritual advisers as were also Atzerott and Payne. At [illegible] one o'clock the outer prison door was opened. Mrs Surratt was supported on her way to the gallows by two military officers. Next to her followed Atzerott, Harrold and Payne accompanied by their respective spiritual advisers. Four seats were placed for them on the platform in the following manner: Mrs Surratt, then Payne, Harrold and Atzerott, the [illegible] ministers [illegible] Gen Hartranft [illegible] the sentence [illegible] death [illegible] in the walls surrounding the [illegible] several hundred [illegible].

One of the priests [illegible] seated next to her attended [illegible] Payne [illegible] Gen. Hartranft and the officers [illegible] who had charge of him [illegible] with an unpleasant look or gesture [illegible] to have a [illegible] for his [illegible] Payne [illegible] in this world and the [illegible] in heaven [illegible] the kind treatment [illegible] prayer that God would receive his [illegible] was affected to tears. [illegible] Atzerott also returned thanks [illegible] Hartranft for kind attention and then invoked the mercy of God [illegible] were then [illegible] their seats [illegible] legs bandaged [illegible] the caps were [illegible] over their heads. Atzerott, while being prepared for execution exclaimed: "Gentlemen farewell. Be warned by the fate of the man now before you." One of the clergymen standing near exclaimed: "May we all meet in the other world." As soon as the rope was put around each head, Mrs. Surratt being the last one adjusted, a section of the platform on which they had been standing suddenly fell and the culprit were hanging several feet from the ground.

Mrs Surratt and Payne scarcely moved a muscle. Atzerott exhibited some twitching but Harrold showed more nervous sensibility than any of the others. The bodies hung until life was extinct and afterward were drawn for burial, rough coffins being on hand for that purpose. The arrangements for the execution were perfect. Gen Hancock was present throughout the proceedings. It is said that Payne made a statement [illegible] in behalf of Mrs. Surratt, exonerating her from complicity, and said that all the other prisoners subscribed to an affidavit impeaching the testimony of important witnesses against her.

The President Convalescent.

NEW YORK, July 7.—The Herald's Washington correspondent says the health of the President has so far improved as to warrant his devoting four hours to business, commencing with Thursday morning.

Two More Steamers for this Coast.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—The following telegram was received yesterday from New York by Jas. Raymond, Agent of the opposition steamship company: Two steamers are coming around immediately. The Fogle's passengers arrived by the Ericsson. The steamer America sails from here for San Juan Del Sur to-morrow.

Breckinridge gives Advice Gratis.

The Tribune's Washington special dispatch says It appears that just previous to his departure for Cuba, John C. Breckinridge addressed a private letter to his friend E. M. Bruce, formerly of the rebel Congress, of which the following is an extract: I have had no news from the outer world since I disbanded near Woodstock, Ga.—the last Confederate force East of the Chattahoochie. I trust there will be wisdom enough in the Government at Washington not to drive a brave and suffering people to remedies that spring from despair. Every man should exert the influence he possesses to make the present cessation of hostilities permanent and honorable [illegible] there can be no lasting peace founded on cruelty and oppression.

Most of the money at present issued by the Treasury Department is being disbursed for the pay of our soldiers.

Orders will soon be issued ordering Gen. Hancock's headquarters to established in Baltimore. [illegible] will then relieve most of [illegible] present [illegible] hereabouts.

ARRIVAL OF THE COLFAX PARTY.—In pursuance of [illegible] yesterday morning at 9 o'clock the steamer [illegible] of the People's Transportation Company left [illegible] street wharf for Oregon City with a delegation [illegible] to receive Hon. Schuyler Colfax [illegible] Member of Congress and Speaker of the House of [illegible] Hon. Lieut. Gov. Bross of Illinois, proprietor of the Chicago Tribune, Mr. Richardson, correspondent of the New York Tribune and Mr. Bowles [illegible] [illegible] The party were met upon the arrival [illegible] [illegible] to pay their respects to [illegible] which was done in a happy manner [illegible] from Messrs. Colfax, Bross [illegible] Woolen Factory building [illegible] visitors by the president [illegible] [illegible] Brass Band [illegible] board. The steam [illegible] [illegible] who had gathered [illegible] gentlemen were received by Mayor [illegible] members of the City Council [illegible] the hospitality of the city [illegible] Lincoln House, and after a few remarks [illegible] and Gov. Bross, all adjourned to refresh themselves [illegible] until after the supper [illegible] had been fairly discussed. The party have [illegible] very long distance, [illegible] Kansas [illegible] and were of course very much fatigued, [illegible] feeling which they seemed to partake [illegible] last evening at the Lincoln House, [illegible] degree of freshness which characterizes true men [illegible] warmth [illegible] well being. The supper [illegible] bountiful collation and most elegantly served by Mr. [illegible] of the new hotel, [illegible] the party, and the people being determined to [illegible] Colfax more at length, he again appeared in front [illegible] Hotel, at the conclusion of a short stirring speech [illegible] Governor Bross, and addressed one of the largest [illegible] that ever assembled [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the national [illegible] His subjects were upon [illegible] [illegible] He spoke cheeringly of the future prospects of the country [illegible] Mr. Colfax is an ardent [illegible] development of this coast [illegible] the great Pacific Railroad [illegible] in five years from this time [illegible] [illegible] In regard to Mexican affairs [illegible] [illegible] the rightful [illegible] [illegible] by crushing out [illegible] a domestic [illegible] [illegible] he stands [illegible] no one can doubt [illegible] [illegible] Seward, whom God has spared [illegible] [illegible] sickle but [illegible] Trust him [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Johnson [illegible] Stanton and his faithful associates, and all will be well [illegible] Trust them [illegible] the sunshine [illegible] as in the days of darkness and night [illegible] Mr. Richardson followed Mr. Colfax in a pleasing and [illegible] address, for a few moments, greatly cheered [illegible] conclusion of Mr. Richardson's remarks the [illegible] going to their homes thankful for the [illegible] to hear the principles of our National [illegible] [illegible] as Mr. Colfax. We are happy to know that he [illegible] opinions on this extended trip [illegible] among us—that their journey has [illegible] pleasure, and that their visit to our city was [illegible] by our citizens is attested in the [illegible] for the accommodation and comfort of the distinguished guests. The party will remain in the city to-day at the Lincoln House, and will this evening be entertained at the [illegible] residence.

[illegible] COURTS CASE.—We are indebted to Leopold [illegible] Esq., for the following abstract [illegible] [illegible] especially concerning [illegible]

[illegible] U. S. District Court [illegible] Deady Justice—[illegible] 1865.—Abstract. In the matter of George [illegible] Bryant [illegible] of the Peace for the county of Multnomah [illegible] to the jail of said county on the 14th [illegible] as a deserter from the barkentine Scranton, [illegible] from San Francisco to a port or ports [illegible] river and back, to the port of departure [illegible] so committed until 6½ o'clock [illegible] of the 17th [illegible] to be delivered to the Master of the vessel [illegible] the voyage. Said Bryant sued out a writ of habeas corpus, returnable before the Hon. M. P. Deady [illegible] of the U. S. District Court, on the 17th inst. The [illegible] and in obedience thereto the Jailor produced the body [illegible] the Judge, and returned that he detained the prisoner by virtue of the commitment [illegible] a hearing, the commitment being enquired into, [illegible] that the authority for the arrest is deduced [illegible] Act of Congress July 20, 1790, [illegible] in substance that if any seaman who shall [illegible] to perform a voyage, shall desert [illegible] it shall be lawful for any Justice of the Peace [illegible] [illegible] of the Master, [illegible] his warrant [illegible] such deserter, and if it shall appear by due [illegible] has signed a contract within the intent and [illegible] of this Act, and that the contract has not been [illegible] or dissolved, and that such seaman or mariner [illegible] the said Justice shall commit him to the jail, &c.

[illegible] referred to as being within the intent [illegible] of this act [illegible] and authorized by [illegible] section of the Act of July 20, 1790—that section [illegible] provides that the master of a vessel, bound [illegible] within the United States to any foreign port, [illegible] ship of the burthen of fifty tons or upwards, [illegible] a port in one State to a port in any other [illegible] State, shall, before he proceed on such [illegible] make an agreement in writing or in print with [illegible] or mariner on board such ship, declaring [illegible] voyage, or term or terms of time for which [illegible] or mariner shall be shipped. To authorize [illegible] arrest and confinement of a seaman [illegible] it is evident that he must have signed a contract [illegible] the intent and meaning of this section. How [illegible] to be construed? That the contract is for a [illegible] foreign port, or in a ship of fifty tons burthen [illegible] [illegible] State of the United States, other [illegible] [illegible] that a written [illegible] as herein prescribed without reference [illegible] of the voyages is the burthen of the vessel? [illegible] in the shipping article is from [illegible] to a port or ports on the Columbia river [illegible] to the port of departure. The Court takes judicial [illegible] of the geographical and political divisions of [illegible] and is thereby informed that a ship bound [illegible] may go to ports in Washington Territory as [illegible] the river being the boundary between [illegible] divisions of the country. This [illegible] of course that a Territory of the United [illegible] within the meaning of that word as used [illegible] of the Act of 1790. The [illegible] [illegible] when a State shall intervene between [illegible] and the port of destination. Treating [illegible] one of the enumerated cases in Section [illegible] that an articled seaman of the bark is liable [illegible] to be arrested and returned to [illegible] The question is then narrowed [illegible] the relator, Bryant, make the agreement in [illegible] the voyage? The shipping articles are produced [illegible] Master of the ship admits that the signature [illegible] upon the articles is in the handwriting of the [illegible] Master, Wm. Fullard. [illegible] testified that he never signed or instructed [illegible] to sign for him the shipping articles, that he [illegible] by an arrangement with the Master as [illegible]

[illegible] testifies that he was asked for work by [illegible] he referred him to the Shipping Master [illegible] Bryant walked into the Shipping Master's office [illegible] next day the Master found Bryant [illegible] when he received his shipping articles from Fullard [illegible] name was subscribed at the foot of the agreement [illegible] May 23d, cook, $40 per month, and written [illegible] Shipping Master. Several of the men who signed [illegible] their mark, but the name of Bryant is subscribed [illegible] he can neither read or write. His signature [illegible] identical hand writing of the Shipping Master [illegible] The shipping articles are presumed to be [illegible] import verity but not absolutely; they may [illegible] contradicted by parol evidence. It is objected by [illegible] for Bryant that the articles lack the certificate [illegible] collector, are not accompanied by a description list [illegible] verified by the Master, and that there is no [illegible] endorsed thereon, of the time when the [illegible] came on board. Except the memorandum these [illegible] only required in the case of a foreign [illegible] and as to the memorandum the contract of [illegible] without it.

[illegible] say that a stranger may in the presence of [illegible] and by his request, sign his name to a [illegible] [illegible] the act of the party [illegible] Sec. 295. Here there [illegible] [illegible] requested or consented to Fullard [illegible] his name to the articles. He denies all [illegible] [illegible] But if it were proper and [illegible] the Shipping Master to write the seaman's [illegible] the Court would be slow to allow [illegible] elements of the seaman's [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] the articles are true. But we allow [illegible] why is the paid agent of the Master and [illegible] [illegible] questionable policy. In this way [illegible] become the agent of both parties, and [illegible] himself. His interest is not that of the [illegible] adviser to him. For [illegible] papers and [illegible] [illegible] the improvident [illegible] [illegible] and then put him on [illegible] [illegible] could get [illegible] [illegible] and it follows that [illegible] [illegible] without authority [illegible] for Bryant by W. F. [illegible] Esq. On the part of the shipping [illegible] Esq.

[illegible] to Mr. Colfax and party [illegible] of the U. S. S. Company [illegible] [illegible] on the line of the Columbia river [illegible] [illegible] in honor of the distinguished visitors [illegible] Speaker Colfax, Lt. Gov. Bross, Mr. Bowles [illegible] Mr. Richardson. The steamer New World will [illegible] to-morrow morning on their return.

[illegible] DINNER.—We hear just as we go to press that [illegible] Mr. Colfax may not return from his trip up the Columbia [illegible] by Saturday night, the special Odd Fellows' [illegible] for that evening at which he was to confer the [illegible] of Rebekah, may probably be held this evening. [illegible]

Brandreth's Pills—Their Qualities.—In small and repeated doses the effect of Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills is to increase the activity of the secreting and excreting organs. The alvine discharged becomes more liquid and contains a larger proportion of bile. The operation of this extraordinary medicine does not stop here; the membranes of the lungs, of the eyes and all the membranes become moister, the skin becomes damper and at the same time warmer where too cool, and cooler if too warm. So that Brandreth's Pills seem to vitalize and promote excretions generally. In large doses, say from five to ten Pills, they act as a powerful purgative, clearing the bowels first of their contents and then acting upon the internal organs, cleaning them of slime, mucus, or any secretions not required for their healthy action. Thus the action of Brandreth's Pills is what is required to bring about that state in all the organs which result in their full restoration to health. The blood vessels as well as the blood are thus restored to perfect purity and vigor.

WISTAR'S BALSAM

OF

HAS BEEN USED FOR NEARLY

HALF A CENTURY,

WITH THE MOST ASTONISHING SUCCESS IN CURING

Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Croup, Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, Difficulty of Breathing, Asthma, and every affection of the

THROAT, LUNGS, AND CHEST,

INCLUDING EVEN

CONSUMPTION.

There is scarcely one individual in the community who wholly escapes, during a season, from some one, however slightly developed, of the above symptoms—a neglect of which might lead to the last named, and most to be dreaded disease in the whole catalogue. The power of the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree over this class of complaints is well known; so great is the good it has performed and so great the popularity it has acquired.

In this preparation, besides the virtues of the Cherry, there are commingled with it other ingredients of like value, thus increasing its value ten fold, and forming a Remedy whose power to soothe, to heal, to relieve, and to cure disease, exists in no other medicine yet discovered.

The unequalled [illegible] that has attended the application of this medicine in all cases of

has induced many physicians of high standing to employ it in their practice, some of whom advise us of the fact under their own signatures. We have space only for the names of a few of these:—

E. B. FINLEY, M. D., San Francisco, Cal.
E. BOYDEN, M. D., Exeter, Me.
ALEXANDER HATCH, M. D., China, Me.
R. FELLOWS, M. D., Hill, N. H.
W. H. WEBB, M. D., Cape Vincent, N. Y.
W. B. LYNCH, M. D., Auburn, N. Y.
ABRAHAM SKILLMAN, M. D., Boundbrook, N. J.
H. D. MARTIN, M. D., Mansfield, Pa.

The proprietors have letters from all classes of our fellow citizens, from the halls of Congress to the humblest cottage, and even from beyond the seas; for the fame and virtue of WISTAR'S BALSAM have extended to the uttermost bounds of the earth, without any attempt on our part to introduce it beyond the limits of our own country.

TO CALIFORNIANS AND OREGONIANS.

After October 1, 1863, all of the WISTAR'S BALSAM of WILD CHERRY for the Pacific Coast will be enclosed in a new [illegible] which will bear the printed names of both SETH W. FOWLE & Co., Boston, Mass., and JOHN D. PARK, Cincinnati, Ohio, as well as fac-simile of the signatures of "I. BUTTS," "SANFORD & PARK," and "H. WISTAR, M. D."

My Own Friends.

[illegible]
Should our joys perchance abate
Or sadness [illegible]
How cheering [illegible] hear the [illegible]
Of [illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible] friends

A TRICK [illegible] LONG TOM.—I am an old resident of Oregon and was for many years a constituent of Jo [illegible] at one time Oregon's greatest [illegible]

I propose telling the reader one of his electioneering dodges, and how nicely he got caught at it. Uncle Jo was about to make a speech to the [illegible] territory in Long Tom and stopped at Tom Brown's for dinner. He knew Tom to be a little shaky [illegible] quite inclined to be anti-L——, and Uncle Jo determined to bring him over. As soon as he entered the house he commenced his usual tactics. "Well God bless you, Mrs. Brown how do you do and how are all the little ones?" After kissing the dirty brood all round he [illegible] for mother's pipe. "If there is any thing I do like it is to smoke mother's pipe. It's got some strength into it and does a fellar some good. By the way Mrs. Brown they say Tom is going to vote against me. I hope he won't. He and I have fit Indians together up on Rogue River and camped out in the mountains and been good friends and Democrats ever since we came to Oregon."

Presently dinner is ready and they have [illegible] and beans of course. Mrs. Brown is sorry they have nothing better. But says Uncle Jo, "[illegible] could not have anything better, bless your soul, we don't have anything half so good in Washington. Why my friend the President would give half his salary to get such beans as these. Have you got a pint you could spare?—I would so like to take them to him for seed!"

"We've got bushels of them," says Mrs. Brown.

"Well, now, how lucky! If you will do up a pint of them I will put them in my saddlebags and take them to Mr. Buchanan and I would not be surprised if it were the means of Tom getting one of the best offices in the State."

So the beans were put up and stowed away in Uncle Jo's saddle-bags, and Tom's vote and influence were made all sure.

In about a week Tom and his wife go up to Eugene to visit Tom's sister, Mrs. Smith. Uncle Jo had been there, and made a first rate impression. Mrs. Smith tells Mrs. Brown "What a nice gentleman Squire L—— is, so kind and sociable like, and then he thinks so much of Smith. Would you believe it, he brought us a pint of beans all the way from Washington, the very kind the President has on his table!

At this Mrs. Brown begins to smell a very big mice. Says she

"Mrs. Smith what kind of beans is them he brought you from Washington?"

"Oh they are nice beans, twice as large as our white ones, with a pinkish eye."

"I thought so!" says Mrs. Brown. "May I see them beans?"

"Certainly," says Mrs. Smith. "I have them in the bag with my garden seeds."

The beans were produced, still tied up in a piece of Jane Brown's calico dress. This produced an explosion. Brown and Smith at once became anti-L——, and worked hard to defeat him. Messrs. Brown and Smith were a host in themselves. They canvassed Long Tom and Eugene so thoroughly that Uncle Jo had not the ghost of a chance in those precincts.

HOW SHERMAN'S HEADQUARTERS GREW.—The New York Sun, describing General Sherman's recent appearance at the photographic gallery in that city, gives the following account of his conversation.

"Your headquarters, General, would have made a picture," said the artist, "especially out of the back of the tent." "Yes, my headquarters I know, were sometimes rather singular." "I do not know if you are aware of it," said the artist, "but we used to have some fine cock fighting out there among the boxes." General Sherman then turned to General Anderson and said "My headquarters appeared to be free to everybody who came to the camp on no particular business. All became quartered on the headquarters. If I had a contraband to work about the tent he was sure to take in two or three others to help him. I tried to reduce the size of my headquarters and the number of the wagons; very little answered me. I tried, too, to get my officers to reduce their baggage and come down to a single blanket. Some could pack everything on horseback, each officer taking nothing but what he could carry with him; we could go anywhere then unincumbered; we could then fight. But it appeared, wherever I went, headquarters went too. I was started off on an expedition, resolving to have no headquarters' train, and took but a single wagon. Before I got to the end of the trip my headquarters' train was nearly a quarter of a mile long. It had grown on the journey. First one officer packed up something he wished to take along, and then another; then they got a wagon, next one got a dog, another some fighting-cocks. Then some negro joined us, and then some more wagons; and so it kept on and the train stretched along the road in very ludicrous proportions." Here the General laughed, in which we all joined. "Yes," said the artist, "I remember I got a feather bed and slept in it for a number of nights, and fearing that you would find out I was enjoying such a luxury which you had forbidden, I tumbled it out down the hill at the back of the tent one morning early."

Speaking to General Anderson, General Sherman said "General, I captured a namesake of yours, a Colonel Anderson." "Yes, he is not a relation of mine," replied General Anderson. "He came to me," said Sherman, "after his surrender, and asked: 'What about the private property of officers?' Thinking he referred to his personal baggage, I said we would not trouble that. But it occurred to me to ask him what his baggage consisted of. He said some wine. Supposing it was merely a few boxes of wine for his own use I was about to tell him of course we would not think of taking that, when I casually asked him how much it was worth? He replied; 'about forty thousand dollars, and he had it in one of the [illegible].' 'O,' I replied, 'I guess we'll take that.' He replied, 'it was excellent wine.' 'So much the better, said I; my men like good wine.' So I took it all." All joined the General in a good laugh at this anecdote. After which other instances of his campaign were told by General Sherman, until he abruptly looked at his watch and soon after departed.

SECRETARY STANTON.—We do not take up a Copperhead paper now-a-days that does not contain a studied, malignant and mendacious attack on Stanton, the Secretary of War. Some of these diatribes are merely abusive and denunciatory; others specify what are claimed to be his offenses, but all are false. There is one explanation of all these objurations of this most valuable and efficient officer, and that is this: he has been largely instrumental in putting down the rebellion. His zeal has never quenched in indifference; his energy never tired, and his blows have never failed of their effect. He has been as energetic against the skulking and cowardly home traitor as against Jeff Davis in the rebel Cabinet, or General Lee in the field, hence the wailings of which he is the object. Stanton, refusing at first to wear it, has finally earned the name—Carnot, Organizer of Victory. The Copperheads strike at him in vain.—Chicago Tribune.

SAM. HOUSTON.—Now that our forces have obtained access to Texas we shall learn what became of Samuel Houston. The probability is that he died during the first year of the war, though for some reason the Southern journals maintained a studied silence in regard to him. It is doubtless true that he never wavered in his allegiance to the government, but quietly submitted to the new order of things.

It is known to us that Samuel Houston died in Texas, but later than the first year of the war, a war which he regretted and resisted as long as possible. One of the Texan Rangers, in our office the other day, [illegible] but a deserter from the rebel army, knew Houston well and assured us that he died a broken hearted man in consequence of the rebellion. [illegible] any time in [illegible] country and [illegible] Union.—New York Express.

The palm of [illegible] impudence thus far may perhaps be awarded to [illegible] A. Wise, brother of Henry A. Wise, who, while admitting that his four sons had been in the rebel army to the close of the war, and that he had and all his family had given energetic support to the rebellion, wrote to General Gordon, commanding at Norfolk, demanding supplies for his family, asserting his rights to citizenship and complaining that his sons were not allowed to wear their rebel uniforms. General Gordon replied to this impertinence as it deserved.

LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; [illegible] and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

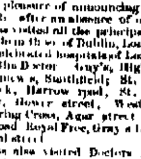
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



617 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, [illegible] Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned to this State after an absence of one year, during which time he has visited all the principal hospitals there [illegible] among them those of Dublin, London and Paris. The following celebrated hospitals of London are among those visited by the Doctor: Guy's, High street, Borough; St. Bartholomew's, Smithfield; St. Mary's, Paddington Place, [illegible]; Lock, Harrow road; St. Luke's, Old street; University, Gower street; Westminster, Broad Sanctuary; Charing Cross, Agar street, Strand; London, Whitechapel road; Royal Free, Gray's Inn road; King's College, Portugal street.

DOCTOR GIBBON has also visited Doctors Acton of London, Parker of Birmingham, England, and Ricord of Paris, who are considered the best physicians and surgeons in the world and whose authority is acknowledged to be the highest in the treatment of Sexual Diseases.

DOCTOR GIBBON has obtained from them their new mode of treatment which cannot be surpassed.

DOCTOR GIBBON has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with new facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of those horrible life-destroying maladies so that the cure can be [illegible] before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of [illegible] diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was not [illegible] of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, by [illegible] Dollars [illegible] Wells, Fargo & Co.
